A Republican State Convention

WILL BE HELD IN

GRANITE HALL, AUGUSTA,

Wednesday, June 23, 1880

At 11 o'clock A. M.,

for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Governor to be supported at the September election, and two candidates for Electors of President and Vice President of the United States, and to transact any other business that may properly come before the Convention.

The basis of representation will be as follows: Each city, town and plantation will be entitled to one delegate, and for every seventy-five votes cast for the Republican candidate for Governor in 1879 an additional delegate, and a fraction of forty votes in excess of seventy-five will be accorded a delegate.

The State Committee will be in session in the ante-room of the Hall at 9 o'clock, on the morning of the Convention, to receive the credentials of delegates.

For the first time in the history of Maine the attempt was made in 1879 to deprive the people of the right to choose their own officers, and to corruptly continue in power those whom the people had rejected. The authors, abettors and accomplices in this crime against free government are now seeking to come before the people under some new party name—availing themselves of an alias, the common resort of those who seek to escape the responsibility and punishment of their crimes.

Against these men, under whatever name they may appear, all those citizens who condemn the nefarious plot to destroy the right of suffrage, are invited to unite, without regard to past party affiliations, to preserve honest Government for the honest people of Maine.

By order of the Republican State Committee.

C. A. BOUTELLE,
FRED N. DOW, } Sub-Committee.
GEORGE C. WING,

J. O. SMITH, Secretary.

TILDEN's letter seems to have strengthened his friends and confused his enemies.

THE rebel archives now in possession of the War Department at Washington, contain a colonel's commission in a rebel infantry regiment, made out for Thomas F. Bayard, now United States Senator from Delaware, and possible Presidential candidate.

PRESIDENT Hinsdale of Hiram College in Ohio, of which Mr. Garfield used to be President, says: "If General Garfield is not a man of the most absolute integrity I have no reason to suppose any such man exists."

JUDGE TOURGEE, the author of "A Fool's Errand," has gone to Canada to finish his new book, thus making sure of an English copyright. This work is to be a study of black and white character in the South, with perhaps enough politics distributed through it to make it interesting to those who are not attracted by mere fiction.

BESIDES electing their Congressional candidate by 2000 majority, the Oregon Republicans have secured a majority of five on a joint legislative ballot, which will insure the election of a Republican to succeed Grover as United States Senator. The Democrats have a majority of six in the present Legislature.

NEW YORK Tribune: The prediction of some of Mr. Tilden's followers in Cincinnati, that the letter, though a declination in terms would in reality, be a bid for the nomination, is more than half fulfilled. If the Convention should get into a snarl with its baker's dozen of candidates, and should straighten it out by a hurrah for the old ticket of 1876, who can say that Tilden would still decline, or that he did not foresee just such a result when he wrote the letter.

THE Albany Journal puts a hard conundrum to the Albany Argus when it asks that paper to explain how it is, if Gen. Garfield is the pirate, burglar, assassin, incendiary and what not that certain Democratic papers say he is, Speaker Randall, who has known the General for years, named this monster of unspeakable iniquity to lead all other Republicans on the most important of the Congressional Committees—the Committee on Ways and Means?

EASTON Free Press: "Mr. Blaine was not nominated at Chicago, but for all that he is the foremost Republican and one whose qualities both of head and heart are and must always be the admiration of all patriotic people. He has no difficulty in deferring his own personal ambition to the good of the party and the country. Success cannot elate him, nor can defeat cast him down. Here is the true test of greatness and he meets it with no appearance of effort. James

GOV. DAVIS TO BE RENOMINATED BY ACCLAMATION.

The Candidates for Electors at Large.

NO OPPOSITION TO CONGRESSMAN LINDSEY'S RENOMINATION.

AUGUSTA, June 22.—The indications are that the convention to-morrow will have in the vicinity of a thousand delegates present. It will be very unanimous. Gov. Davis will undoubtedly be nominated by acclamation. J. S. Wheelwright, of Bangor, of the firm of Wheelwright & Clark, and formerly a member of both branches of the Maine Legislature, is strongly talked of as one of the electors at large, as is Hon. W. W. Thomas, Jr., of Portland. The friends of Ira H. Foss, Esq., of Saco, will present that gentleman's name for the distinction, and the auspices are favorable to his getting it. Mr. Foss, until three months ago, was agent of the York Manufacturing Company at Saco, one of the heaviest woolen manufacturing companies in New England. This position he held twelve years. He was Mayor of Saco in 1877, and is a well known and leading man in his section of the State.

A meeting of the State Committee was held in the parlors of the Augusta House this evening. Hon. S. D. Lindsey was called to the chair. All the counties in the State except Hancock and Sagadahoc were represented. The following gentlemen were designated as Secretaries of the temporary organization:—T. W. Guptill, Saco; George H. Watkins, Paris; J. M. Studley, Warren, and W. H. Looney, Portland.

Hon. S. D. Lindsey, of Norridgewock, will call the convention to order to-morrow. Hon. Anson P. Morrill will be nominated as temporary chairman, and this will be made permanent on motion. Rev. Mr. Sterling, pastor of the Methodist church, will offer prayer. There is but one contested case coming before the Committee on Credentials—that of Cape Elizabeth. The platform will be a reiteration of the old Republican principles. Resolutions will be adopted condemning the "count out" of last winter, endorsing the nomination of Garfield and Arthur at Chicago, and pledging the support of the Republicans of Maine to that ticket.

The District Convention in the afternoon will renominate Stephen D. Lindsey, of Norridgewock, the present incumbent, for candidate for Representative. This will make Mr. Lindsey's third term in Congress. He will undoubtedly be nominated by acclamation. Major Edwin Flye, of Newcastle, a successful shipbuilder, who succeeded Mr. Blaine in the House, serving out his unexpired term, will be chosen as elector from the third district. Resolutions endorsing the nominations at Chicago and the choice of the State Convention will be adopted.

The Late Collector Freeland's Accounts.

The accounts of the late Collector Freeland of Brooklyn are short $28,465.60. The amount is stated to be represented by stub stamp books in the possession of the chief deputy, Silas J. Boone. Revenue agent Hale and District Attorney Tenney yesterday made a peremptory demand on Boone for all revenue stamps in his possession. Boone turned over $9,457.60, leaving $19,008 still due, which he promised to deliver today. He has since disappeared and Commissioner Raum has directed a warrant to be issued for his arrest. The bondsmen of the deceased collector Freeland are liable for the amount of the defalcation.

Spanish Cruisers.

BALTIMORE, June 22.—The schooners David L. Taylor, 59 tons, and Wm. F. McKewen, 54 tons, have been sold for Spanish cruisers off Cuba. The Taylor has sailed. The McKewen leaves this week. The schooners will be fitted as gunboats to cruise on the coast of Cuba, to lay in wait for stores intended for the insurrection, to blockade inlets and do service for which their speed and light draft fits them. They were bought by the Spanish subjects in this country, who have presented them to their government.

CINCINNATI.

Yesterday's Session of the Convention.

NOTHING BUT PRELIMINARY WORK DONE.

Tammany Delegates Not to be Admitted.

PAYNE GETS TILDEN'S NEW YORK STRENGTH.

Ohio Returns to Thurman.

CINCINNATI, June 22.—The convention began to assemble rapidly at 1.30 in Music Hall, the galleries being largely occupied by ladies. The main body of the hall is assigned to delegates and alternates whose positions are indicated by neat banners of blue silk edged with gold, bearing the names of the respective States. The upper galleries are decked with American flags. At the windows flags of all nationalities are flying. In the centre of the hall is suspended a blue canvass bearing the motto, "Ohio greets the nation." The seating capacity of the hall is less than half that of Chicago. Back of the platform an organ discourses music, and is the main gallery at the opposite end a military band is stationed. Shields on either side of the organ, bearing 13 stars and stripes, also bear the words, "Peace and good will, prosperity and happiness" on one side, and "Abundance, victory, commerce, enterprise" on the other.

The arrangements for the press though moderately good are not equal to those at Chicago, having been arranged by men without experience. A great deal of loud complaint is made on the part of press representatives.

Among the prominent men on the platform were Representatives Regan of Texas, Atkins of Tennessee, Forney of Alabama, Harris of Virginia, Blackburn of Kentucky, Hill of Ohio, Springer of Illinois; also ex-Representatives Banning and Rice of Ohio, and John G. Thompson, sergeant-at-arms of the House.

At noon the organ played a medley of national airs. About 230 delegates were in their seats. The platform and galleries were well filled.

Ex-Senator Barnum of Connecticut, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, called the convention to order at 12.45. Prayer was offered by the Rev. Chas. W. Wendete of the Unitarian church of Cinninnati, who spoke of the young democracy of America having become a refuge and asylum for the distressed and downtrodden throughout the world, and the light and hope of the nation. He prayed that with an unfaltering hand every unjust law on the statute books might be erased, and our political life purged from every evil that keeps back the people from the highest virtue and happiness. Above all, he continued, let there be an end of all sectional divisions and strifes.

Mr. Barnum then, by direction of the national committee, presented the name of Hon. George Hoadley, of Ohio for temporary chairman, which was agreed to.

Wm. L. Scott and H. D. McHenry were appointed to conduct him to the chair.

Mr. Hoadley's approach to the platform was greeted with applause. He proceeded to address the committee and convention. He thanked them for their complimentary action inputting him in the chair, and pledged himself to the strictest impartiality in the administration of the duties assigned to him. This was the only adequete method by which he could testify his gratitude. As chairman he should be neither the friend or the foe of any candidate, though he had his favorite in whose behalf he was both earnest and partisan. He took the ground that the representatives here were not delegates of the Congressional districts, but as representatives of indestructible states. (Subdued applause.) He proceeded with some laudation of the Democratic party, for which this convention would make no new creed, which had its own vitality, and which would not depend for its future on the success of the party or be crushed out by its defeat. Their duties here were simply to declare the party will. This occasion was one of great interest and importance. At St. Louis four years ago they placed in nomination two of the foremost men of the nation. (Great Applause.)

The subsequent repetition of the name of Samuel J. Tilden was the occasion for another outburst, delegates rising in their seats and cheering and waving fans. Mr. Hoadley asserted that they were as certainly elected as was Washington or Monroe. (Subdued applause.) He denounced the Republican party for the fraud which cheated the people out of their choice.

But if the Democratic party should again be successful, no cunning device of dishonest arbitration should profit by the fruits of their victory. (Applause.) Although the Democrats failed to inaugurate their candidate, their cause was not wholly lost. They detected the attempt to steal the state government of Florida and no trace remains of carpet-bag government in the south except one hundred and seventy millions of state debt, have been accumulated by them as a burden upon the people. Louisiana has only one rightful Senator in Congress. The seat of the other is filled by a delegate from a band of outlaws never recognized as a government. In conclusion he said:

The years that have passed since the theft of the Presidency have been years of plenteous harvests. The benison of the Most High has been upon us and opportunities afforded by His gracious favor wisely employed in the economies of the two successive Democratic Congress have made possible that party measures of resumed payment of national floating debt and that equalization of values called by the Republican party the resumption of specie payments. But new prosperities awakened by foreign demand and abundant domestic product were gifts to the American people from a higher source than any agency of the Republican party. Year after year kept the pay of the corn fields, no returning boards canvassed the wheat sheaves, no supervisors or deputy marshals assisted at the gatherings into garners, no electoral commission gave its blessing to the harvest. They were the fruits of labor, gracious gifts of the laborer, of him who is the largest benefactor in society—the high priest of the Democratic hierarchy. (Applause.)

We have been spared one great danger since the 8th of June. It has been made certain that a usurper will not be immediately followed by a monarch. But the third term is postponed not avoided and the real danger is not in the third term so much as the Republican party which makes the third term possible. When more than three-fifths of any political party invoke a "Saviour of Society," that party is already so poisoned with imperialism that it has become itself a menace to the public far more formidable than any mischief it professes to fear or any danger it was organized to repel. The remedy, gentlemen, for this and for all other ills of the state is in eternal vigilence. This vigilence already newly quickened among the people from whom you come continued here and hereafter is sure to bring victory to the Democratic principles and Democratic candidates.

The remaining temporary officers were elected. Hon. F. O. Prince of Massachusetts was elected temporary secretary, with a number of associates.

Mr. Bean of New York offered a resolution adopting the rules of the last national convention for the government of this until otherwise ordered. It was adopted.

Mr. Martin of Delaware offered a resolution that the roll of States be called for committee on permanent organization, on credentials and on resolutions.

Mr. Wade of New York moved a call for the presentation of credentials.

Mr. Martin objected and said the best way was to send credentials direct to the committee on credentials.

The roll was called and the committee were named. Simon S. Brown is the Maine member, John P. Sweeney represents Massachusetts, A. McNicholl of Maine and Charles S. Woodbury of Massachusetts are on the committee on resolutions.

Mr. Avery of Massachusetts moved that when the convention adjourn it be to 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Mr. Martin of Delaware moved an amendment to have the hour of re-assembling at 6 o'clock to-night. (Cries of "no, no." "Yes, yes.") Mr. Martin subsequently withdrew his amendment and Mr. Avery's motion was adopted.

Mr. Hill of Ohio moved the following:

Resolved, That recognizing the great service rendered by the Democratic press in all state and national campaigns, the secretary of this convention is hereby instructed to issue pass tickets to all persons who are bona fide editors of Democratic newspapers who make personal application for the same.

He said he was informed by Secretary Prince that the national committee were ready to issue such press tickets, but he wanted the resolution adopted.

A motion to lay on the table was lost, as also one to refer the resolution to the national committee. After some further remarks the resolution was rejected.

Mr. Watterson of Kentucky presented an application on behalf of delegates from the territories, asking recognition in the convention, which was referred without discussion to the committee on permanent organization.

David A. Wells of Connecticut offered the usual resolutions referring to the committee on resolutions without debate all resolutions regarding platform. Adopted.

The convention then on motion of Mr. Proctor of Kentucky, at 2.50 adjourned until 10 tomorrow.

THE COMMITTEES.

The Committee on Credentials Refuse to Admit the Tammany Delegates.

Arthur Sewall represents Maine on the Credential Committee, and John K. Tarbox is the member from Massachusetts. After adjournment the Committee on Permanent Organization organized by electing Mr. Martin, of Delaware, chairman and Mr. Dawson, of South Carolina, Secretary. The Committee on Resolutions elected Henry Watterson, of Kentucky, chairman. The Committee on Credentials elected M. B. Young, of Georgia, chairman A. Wallner, of Oregon, Secretary. John Kelley and his men met with the committee, but were requested to withdraw. A delegate from Arkansas objected to Smith M. Weed, of New York sitting as a member of the committee on credentials, inasmuch as his own seat was contested. The chairman ruled the objection out of order, as there was no notice of a contest before the committee. A long time was spent in fixing the length of time for argument. It was finally resolved to give each speaker an hour and a half to present his case. The committee then adjourned to meet at 7 o'clock to-night. On motion to give each side in the New York contest only an hour to present their case to the committee it was a tie, but the vote was not considered to have any significance.

The Committee on Permanent Organization, serving by unanimous vote, determined to report to the convention the name of J. W. Stevenson, of Kentucky, as chairman and of Vice President and Secretaries, one from each State. The Vice President from Maine is Arius Alden, Secretary John R. Redman, of Ellsworth. The committee then recommended that the Secretaries, reading clerks and Sergeant-at-Arms of the temporary organization be retained. The report concludes as follows:—The committee further report that they have duly considered the memorial in relation to representation of the District of Columbia and of the territories, and have heard the arguments of the memorialists, and respectfully recommend the following resolution:

Resolved, That two delegates from the District of Columbia and two delegates from each of the territories be admitted to the convention and have the right to participate in debate and every other right and privilege enjoyed by the delegates from the States, excepting the right to vote.

The committee on credentials reassembled at 7.30 and entered upon the consideration of the New York contest. An hour and a half was allowed for the presentation of the case of the Tammany Hall contestees, which was occupied by Judge George F. Comstock, Amasa J. Parker, Mr. Moak of Albany, George Miller and John Kelly. The anti-Tammany case was presented by Gov. Walker, George M. Bebee, Lester B. Faulkner, Rufus Pickham, John Fellows and J. Thomas Spriggs. All Tammany asked was that its representatives be allowed equal representation in the convention with the sitting delegates, and this they asked in the name of harmony of the party in New York, stating that were it refused it would endanger the national ticket in that State, in which the Democratic party were not in a position to lose a chance.

The sitting delegates replied that the admission of Tammany would lose as many votes for the Democrats as Tammany could bring it. At 11 o'clock the committee closed the doors and went into secret consideration of the case. Before doing so a committeeman asked Kelly whether if his delegation was admitted he would pledge himself to support the nominee of the convention whoever it might be, saying his vote on the contest would be influenced by Kelly's answer. Kelly replied that speaking freely and frankly for himself, he would say that if admitted to the convention and Tilden was nominated he would not and could not support him, but if any other man was nominated he would work his best for the nominees. Judge Comstock replied to the same question that he would support the nominee of the convention unless he was a murderer, thief or felon. Patrick Cowan, of Saratoga, a Tammany contestant, stated that he would feel in honor bound, if admitted to participate in the convention, to support the nominee. At 12.15 the committee, by a vote of 32 to 4, Arkansas, Colorado, New Jersey and Delaware voting no, voted in favor of allowing the setting delegates from New York to retain their seats.

Committee on resolutions did not re-assemble until late in the evening and then organized by the election of Henry Waterman as chairman and John P. Irish of Iowa as secretary. Miss Susan B. Anthony, Mrs. Merriwether and other representatives of the Woman's Suffrage Association were allowed to present their case and to make an argument of considerable length. The representatives of the different states then submitted resolutions which they desired to be incorporated in the platform, and one or more were submitted from most of the states. They were all referred to the sub-committee: The committee then adjourned till to-morrow morning at 11.30. The sub-committee commenced the task of sifting and classifying the resolutions.

THE CANDIDATES.

Men Who May or May Not be Nominated.

Up to this time nothing in relation to the probable nominations has taken definite shape. If New York, New Jersey and Connecticut could agree as to a ticket it looks as if the convention would readily accept their decision, so far as can be gathered from the opinions of numerous delegates; but thus far no such united action has been agreed upon.

Bayard still appears to have the largest number of really earnest and healthy supporters but there is nothing yet to justify the expectation that he will win. New York being considered the pivot state, there is no great anxiety to learn who its delegation considers the most available candidate there.

Bayard is evidently strongest in Southern affections, but the Southern delegates do not press him except by following Northern leadership.

The Field men have secured a promise of many complimentary votes on the first ballot, and in this way have increased their apparent strength.

Georgia is expected to divide its vote between Bayard and Field on the first ballot, but Field's managers have not been able to consolidate the Pacific delegates for him. They claim all of the Oregon and seven of California's twelve votes, but five Pacific delegates are positively against Field. The division in Ohio and Indiana are thought by many to leave all those states out of the question.

Payne continues apparently to be quite strong, and some shrewd observers think that if the Tilden men hold their seats in the convention and vote against New York for Payne, he will lead Bayard on the first ballot. This, however, is doubtful, and the chances in any event are that Bayard's friends will stand firm, while Payne's votes will soon dwindle.

These are opinions only, which are telegraphed in order to give an idea of how the preponderance of the talk is, but all is at sea and nobody can give any safe forecaste of what is to come.

PAYNE LOOMING UP.

He Gets the Whole of the New York Delegation.

CINCINNATI, June 22.—The New York delegation held a meeting this afternoon and took a ballot which resulted, Payne 38, Tilden 11, English 10, Bayard 6, Hancock 1, Randall 1. The delegation then according to instructions directed the chairman to cast the 75 votes of New York in the convention for Payne, he having a majority of the total vote and to do so until further instructions by the delegation.

KENTUCKY'S PREFERENCES.

Senator Beck Predicts that McDonald Will be the Nominee.

Senator Beck of Kentucky predicts that McDonald of Indiana will be the Presidential nominee The Senator said this morning: "The North is not yet ready for a Southern gentleman: the North is not yet ready to accept the candidate of the solid South. She must believe that the rights of the Union soldier and many other rights that are dear to her will be protected and upheld. That Senator Bayard will not do, because the North is not willing to accept such as the truth. It is a Western man that we need and will have." The Kentucky delegation now stands 15 for Bayard, 6 for Field, 2 for Hendricks and 1 for Thurman.

THURMAN'S STRENGTH.

The Ohio Delegation After Being Roundly Denounced Concludes to Support Him.

A meeting was called by Thurman's friends from various parts of Ohio at Melodeon Hall to-night. The Thurman club of Columbus took the initiative in the call and was supported by Mr. Thurman's admirers from all quarters. An immense crowd attended the meeting. The Ohio delegates had been invited but only Gen. Steedmans put in an appearance. After speeches fiercely denouncing the apathy of the Ohio delegatrs towards Thurman calls were made for an explanation from the delegates. Gen. Steedman excased himself on the ground of disability. The most biting animadversions of speakers were most applauded with much enthusiasm. The meeting passed the following:

Resolved, That the candidacy of any citizen of Ohio other than Allen G. Thurman for nomination for the Presidency in advance of the presentation of his name repudiated by the Democracy of Ohio as being untrue to the expressed will of the Democracy in their state convention assembled.

The meeting adjourned to reassemble in the same hall tomorrow evening.

The Ohio delegation had a long and strong session tonight, the consequence of the bitter denunciation following their action of last night, by which it was charged they betrayed Thurman. A resolution was offered directing the Secretary to prepare a record of the action of the delegation with the names of persons making all motions, the object being to show up those who chose to disregard the instructions of the state convention. The meeting was turned into one of apology, every anti-Thurman man almost declaring he was for Thurman first, last and all the time, and the delegation finally agreed not to pbt themselves on record but to vote for Thurman as a unit so long as there was any hope of his nomination, and after that to cast their votes unanimously for an Ohio man. It is understood that their second choice is for Payne, though no name was specified.

A POSITIVE STATEMENT.

Gov. Seymour Will Not Accept the Nomination Under Any Circumstances.

NEW YORK, June 22—The following dispatch was sent to Gev. Seymour last night:

It is asserted here that ex-Governor Tilden's withdrawal removes contingency held in reserve under your declination, and that you now consent to be a candidate.

The following is Gev. Seymour's reply, which is so unequivocal that it will probably be conceded to answer all demends for an absolute and unequalified refusal of the nomination:

BELVIDERE, N. Y., June 21—9 a. m.

Your dispatch received I cannot be a candidate nor accept nomination under any circumstances.

HORATIO SEYMOUR.

MINOR TELEGRAMS.

The 250th anniversary of the arrival of the Arabella with Gov. Winthrop and the charter in Massachusetts bay was observed yesterday by the Essex Institute of Salem.

Portland, Oregon, Carried by the Republicans.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—At the Portland, Oregon, city election yesterday, the Republicans elected all their candidates except one councilman.

IRISH REPUBLICANS.

A National Convention to Endorse Garfield and Arthur.

NEW YORK, June 22.—The Irish American Republican organization have issued an address and call for a National convention to be held in August at Indianapolis to endorse the nominations of Garfield and Arthur. The address is signed by the following gentlemen: A. L. Morrison, No. 151 West Madison street, Chicago; M. Murphy, Arizona; Hugh Dailey, Connecticut; J. R. Obeirne, D. Vermont Republican Convention.

BURLINGTON, June 22.—The Republican State convention for the nomination of State officers will be held in this city to-morrow and the city is full of prominent Republicans from all parts of the State. Probabilities indicate the nomination of Col. Roswell Fairbanks of Bradford to succeed Gov. Proctor, there being but little opposition and that unorganized. For Lt. Governor the contest lies between Albert Clarke, editor of the St. Albans Messenger, and Gen. John L. Bristow of this city. For Treasurer the present incumbent, John A. Page of Montpelier, is a candidate for renomination, with Wm. H. Dubois of Randolph as opposing candidate. For Secretary of State the present incumbent, Geo. Nichols of Northfield, will be renominated, there being no opposition.

A Band of Sonora Filibusters Broken Up.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—A Tucson dispatch says a band of Morquez revolutionists were broken up and disbanded near the Sonora on the 18th. The Mexican consul stationed here, upon learning of the movement, notified the U. S. military authorities, who promptly sent a force to arrest the parties. Morquez, on hearing of the movements of the authorities, disbanded his forces and with his officers returned here last night. It is reported he left here this morning in disguise for San Francisco. Leading Mexican residents here are loud in praise of the Government for its action, which they say saved their Government many lives and much treasure.

EUROPE.

The Policy of the Homerulers.

LONDON, June 22.—The Times says the Homerulers have instructed Mr. Parnell to request O'Donnell not to delay business by his resolution. They have also resolved not to participate in the Bradlaugh debate, in order that the Irish business before the House may not be impeded.

The Berlin Conference.

The Times Berlin dispatch says the conference has considered the frontier deemed most suitable by the Greeks. The ambassadors and delegates found many good and commendable qualities in this line, but were deterred by the Berlin Treaty and their instructions from adopting it entirely. Whether, however, being able to give Greece quite as much coast line as she desires on the east and west, the conference may find it compatible with a liberal interpretation of its instructions to satisfy the Greek claims so far as they regard the centre of the peninsula.

Bradlaugh's Case.

In the Commons today on the resumption of the debate on Bradlaugh's claim to affirm, Gladstone said the government's position is to give advice and leave the decision to the House. The question of atheism, he said, was irrelevant. He opposed Sir Harding Gifford's amendment that Bradlaugh be permitted neither to take oath nor make affirmation.

Tonight Gifford's amendment forbidding Bradlaugh either to take oath or make affirmation was adopted 275 to 230. On the announcement of the vote which unseats Bradlaugh there was an extraordinary scene of excitement, the opposition cheering tremendously and waving their hats. Parnell obtained leave to bring in a bill to relieve Irish distress.

Compliments to Gambetta.

PARIS, June 22.—Republican papers unanimously approve the speech of Gambetta in defense of the plenary amnesty bill which was passed by that body yesterday. The organs of the Right compliment Gambetta on the talent he displayed in this affair, and the newspapers of all shades of politics agree that he cannot much longer abstain from accepting the premiership.

Foreign Notes.

The fourth clause of the German church bill was carried by a union of the conservatives and centre.

The hearing of the writ of error in the case of the Tichborne claimant will be held Thursday.

The late rains in the district of Laban, Prussia, killed 56 people and destroyed 105 houses.

The triumph of the Clericals in the Italian municipal elections has exceeded the highest expectations. Out of 14 vacancies in the Municipal Council they returned 13 candidates. The severity of the contest was unprecedented. Of provincial councillors they returned four out of five candidates.

A Madrid dispatch says: In the Deputies, the Minister of Justice, replying to a question, said the law for the abolition of slavery in Cuba would be fully carried out. He believed fresh difficulties had been encountered by the Madrid conference relative to the position of the Jews in Morocco.

SOUTH AMERICA.

The London Times on the Buenos Ayres Troubles.

LONDON, June 22.—The Times' financial article says: As far as we can learn, President Avellaneda of the Argentine confederation has behaved with singular prudence and firmness. He has blockaded the city of Buenos Ayres by land and water, and that so vigorously as to practically shut it off from the outside country, but he has not as yet sanctioned bloodshed. He evidently means, if possible, to reduce the city by submission by the gentlest means at his command. The fact that the blockade has been maintained nearly a fortnight and that the oppositon has been able to do nothing to break it is reassuring.

THE DOMINION.

Great Haul of Mackerel.

HALIFAX, June 22.—The seine nets at Prospect were filled on Saturday night by a large school of mackerel. Some of the seines were carried away by the sheer weight of the fish. The American schooner Orient of Gloucester took 400 barrels of mackerel with a purse seine on Saturday off this harbor.

Monday was the anniversary of the settlement at Halifax, and was generally observed as a holiday.

Another Atalanta Hoax.

Children while playing on the beach at Cow Bay picked up a piece of barrel stave about four inches by two and a half inches, on which the following was written with a lead pencil: "Atalanta going down April 12, 1880. No hope. Send this to Mrs. Mary White, Piers, Sussex. James White." The piece of wood appeared by the look to have been about two months in the water. The place where it was picked up was about 12 miles east of this city, and opens directly into the Atlantic ocean.

Successful Trial Trip.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., June 22.—The experimental steamer Anthracite, from London, arrived here on Monday, making the trip in 18 days. She is 27 tons. The voyage was boisterous but successful.

Mr. T. L. Eastman of Fryeburg, the faithful and popular route agent on the P. & O. R. R., yesterday morning had a sudden attack which affected the use of his limbs and his speech. At the last accounts he was recovering somewhat from the effects. Mr. W. G. Spring volunteered immediately to supply his place for the trip. It is hoped that Mr. E. will be speedily restored to health, by taking the rest which he so much needs on account of the care and anxiety which has followed his recent severe bereavement.

The Great London Circus.

Today the Great London Circus, whose advent has been so long and so impatiently awaited, will give two performances on the Western Promenade, afternoon and evening. This immense circus embraces 200 circus performers and 60 cages of the rarest wild beasts, including the great attraction—the baby elephant. There are no less than four palace dens of performing wild beasts, lions, Bengal tigers, hyenas, and panthers. These animals are manipulated by courageous men and women who disdain all fear, and are ambitious alone to subdue the most ferocious of carnivorous animals of jungle and forest. It was found necessary to build a new and unusually large car especially for the purpose of transporting father, mother and infant baby elephant in a separate coach. The vehicle is superbly painted outside and upholstered within with every possible device that will add to the comfort and safety of its colossal and peculiarly valuable occupants.

The circus performers embrace many that are world renowned, such as Fish, the bareback rider, Mme. Cordona, Mlle. Jeal, &c. There is a yoke of ordinary working oxen who do marvelous feats, such as making a pyramid, one on top of another, teetering on a board just like girls and boys, marching the military drill and dancing the waltz.

The evening performance is lighted by the electric light. The light is declared soft and mellow, but in power is equal to 35,000 gas jets, and more brilliant than sunlight.

The grand procession through the principal streets in the morning is said to be a magnificent pageant. The principal performers will stop at the Falmouth and United States hotels.

A New Catholic Diocese.

It is stated, on what is deemed good authority, that the present Catholic diocese of Maine and New Hampshire is to be divided and a new diocese formed of New Hampshire with the bishopric located at Concord Should this division be made the new bishopric of Concord, N. H., will be bestowed upon Very Rev. John E. Barry, pastor of St. John's church, Concord. Father Barry is Vicar General of the diocese of Portland, is a native of Eastport, and is a gentleman of very scholarly attainments and rare executive ability. His parish is a large and flourishing one, and he lives very happily among his people, having a pleasant home with his sister and brother. When Bishop Bacon of Portland died about three years ago, the administration of the diocese rested upon Father Barry until Bishop Healy entered upon the dutics of his office. He was offered the bishopric, but declined it, fearing that his physical health was not such as to justify his acceptance.

Festival of St. John the Baptist.

Large parties have been constantly going over the Grand Trunk to Quebec the past week to attend the festival of St. John the Baptist which occurs today. Yesterday a special train of ten cars carried 600 passengers from the Grand Trunk station in this city, from Fall River, Great Falls and Biddeford, and two bands of music.

ART.

Some Fine Pictures at Davis' Gallery.

At Davis' gallery several admirable pictures have just been received and hung in an excellent light. The New Jersey scene by Geo. H. Smillie—described in the PRESS some time ago—has been replaced and surrounded by the efforts of other favorite artists. Just above it is a charming landscape by the same hand, "A Summer Afternoon." On the right is a clump of woodland upon the slope of a cliff, at whose foot winds the silvery Hudson, its surface reflecting the beams of the declining sun, while on the opposite shore stretch out the uplands with the low hills in the distance.

On the same wall is "A foggy morning on the Adriatic" by Enneking, full of the soft languor and repose of the locality, with the great lateen-rigged boats, their sails brightly painted in true Italian fashion, almost motionless on the glassy water.

Blanchard, now well known in Paris salons, exhibits a French road scene, the tall grasses bordering the great ruts through the sandy plain, with ricks of hay in the middle distance, and the white roofs of a village in perspective all set off by a cool autumnal rather than summer sky.

Weeks displays a "Moorish Street Fountain at Tetuan." There is the old Moorish wall stained and spotted by time, a steep, antique flight of stone steps on the left, and in front a splendid iron-gray horse drinking at the fountain while a fine looking Moor stands at his head.

H. B Brown exhibits a view at Pride's Bridge, warm and exuberant with the lush foliage that ornaments the Presumpscot which here lies like a mirror under the overhanging branches.

Fred Kimball displays two artistic pictures, one "The old millDam at Capisic," and a smaller effort whose name we did not secure.

ARMSTRONG VS. DREW.

Judge Knight's View of the Case.

The Municipal Court room was packed yesterday by a crowd eager to see the conclusion of the assault case of Mrs. Drew and Mr. Armstrong of the Item. Both parties appeared without counsel. Each told their story, which was substantially that given in the PRESS at the time of the affair. Judge Knight then spoke in substance as follows:

This case finds a plain though slight assault by this woman. There was not much injury inflicted upon complainant, nor could there have been, since other men were there to stop all strife and did stop it. Armstrong threw the paper weight at the woman, and it is thereby claimed by her to have been a battery on her; but it appears plain he did it with a just purpose to protect himself from further danger, and so it was a seasonable and justifiable action on his part.

As to the penalty to be imposed upon her, it seems she was acting under a strong sense of injury, and this is justly a matter to be urged in mitigation of her offence. She had not been before the Court, or the public, by any judicial proceedings, or by any affair that could have fairly made her an object of newspaper attack; and, therefore, violent and repeated assaults on her character were not privileged, and ought in all fairness to be considered in this connection. In view, then, of the strong provocation and the slightness of the injury, she will be required to pay one dollar without costs.

The decision was received with loud applause.

Speedy Justice.

Monday morning we had occasion to speak of the quick work by which a man who stole Capt. Jones' yacht was arrested, put before the court and lodged in jail. Yesterday noon, when the freight agent on the John Brooks delivered a package to C. E. Jose & Co.'s team it was discovered that the box had been opened and the silver ware it had contained was missing. Deputy Crowell and Officers Langmaid and Covell went to work, discovered the missing silver ware at Friel's, who told where he got it, and the officers arrested their man and secured the property before 2.20 p. m. The box had been located near the shaft when robbed. The knife with which it was cut open was in the thief's pocket, the jagged edge fitting into the cut. The thief gave the name of Steeves and said that his home was in Bangor. He is a sailor and says that he bought the silver ware in Jerusalem and brought it home with him.

Mechanic Blues Excursion.

The Portland Mechanic Blues will celebrate their 73d anniversary at Long Island on Thursday, June 24th. The Biddeford Light Infantry has accepted an invitation to join in the celebration and will arrive at 8 o'clock a. m. The Blues will form company at their armory at 7.30 o'clock and march through Congress, Park and Commercial streets to the depot to receive the Biddeford company. The route of march will then be taken up through Park, Danforth, State, Congress, Middle and Pearl streets to the steamer, receiving the honorary members of the Portland Mechanic Blues en route, at the Preble House. The anniversary committee wish all past and honorary members to understand that if they have not received invitation cards, it is on account of an inadvertence, and they are hereby invited to join with the company in their celebration.

Badly Burned.

The schooner D. R. French plies between this port and Damariscotta. Last week, while the vessel was lying at anchor at the latter place, Capt. Andrews was using some benzine in the cabin, near a lighted lamp. The benzine caught fire and the captain undertook to carry the bucket which contained the benzine on deck, but was obliged to drop it in the companion way and rush through the flames to the deck. He was very badly burned about the face, neck and hands. The fire in the cabin was soon put out, although the cabin was considerably scorched.

George A. Whitney's Creditors.

The creditors of the firm of George A. Whitney & Co. held a meeting yesterday and opened the bids. D. S. Rice offered 30 cents, and Mr. Redman, Whitney's partner, guaranteed by Wm. H. Sanborn, 35 cents. The latter bid was accepted by a majority of the creditors. The liabilities are $18,939.44 and the assets $7,050.96.

The Barbers.

Today the police will notify the barbers they must close their shops Sundays at 10 a. m. Virtually that is a repetition of the permission of the barbers to close their shops if they wish to. Anybody who can't get shaved by 10 o'clock Sunday morning must be awfully lazy.

Christian Temperance Union.

There will be a special meeting of the Portland Woman's Christian Temperance Union at the Friendly Inn on Thursday at 3 o'clock to make further arrangements for the Flower Mission. At 4 o'clock there will be the regular social meeting of the society. All interested are most cordially invited to attend both meetings.

A Grand Naval Rendezvous.

It was stated the other day that the flag ship Tennesee was soon to visit Portland. We understand that the whole North Atlantic squadron has been ordered to rendezvous here in July. Besides this squadron the Constellation is coming here with the midshipmen.

A New Resort.

Mr. Fletcher, so long and favorably known with the clambakes at Higgin's Beach, and Mr. C. E. Littlefield have taken the dance hall and privileges at Long Island where they propose to receive excursionists and give them tip-top shore dinners. Friday they will have a grand excursion and Saturday the merchants will open the place regularly with a grand clambake. The Peakes' Island steamboats and Henrietta will run here regularly.

GORHAM.

Commencement Exercises at the State Normal School.

Yesterday was Commencement at the State Normal and Training School at Gorham and that pleasant village was crowded with strangers and friends of the scholars, as well as with many of the former pupils of the school. It is conceded that the class of '80, for devotion to study and for scholarship, have proved themselves worthy of the school and reflect credit on the teachers who have devoted themselves unceasingly to their work.

Commencement at Gorham differs in some respects from Commencements elsewhere, in that there is no special effort made at preparation, the regular work of the school proceeding up to the day itself. This year the subjects for the essays were not announced until about one week previous to the Commencement. While such a course detracts somewhat from the effect of the Commencement, it adds much more to the success of the school as a school.

Considerable attention has been paid to the study of geology and a collection, every way creditable to the school, of specimens made. In design drawing the effect of a very few lessons given toward the close of the term was apparent in the studies on exhibition.

Yesterday the morning and afternoon services were devoted to the examinations, and the result showed marked progress, being in every way satisfactory.

At the close of the afternoon exercises the Hon. N. A. Luce, State Superintendent, addressed the graduating class briefly, conferring diplomas on the following ladies and gentlemen forming the class of '80:

Blake, Mildred E.	Ingalls, Kate F.
Burke, Carrie B.	Libbey, Mary E.
Dike, John S.	Mariner, Julia A.
Dow, Jennie A.	Owen, Fred P.
Drummond, Florence S.	Owen, Lincoln.
Eaton, Maggie B.	Parker, E. Louise.
Elwell, Everett P.	Ricker, Annie S.
Evans, Jennie.	Spinney, George R.
Evans, Winnifred.	Suckling, John F.
Guptill, Edward W.	Weeks, M. Grace.
Hall, Alice W.	Wescott, Jennie S.
Hodgdon, Elizabeth A.	Whitney, Frank I.
Hopkinson, Fannie E.	Wickwire, Rebecca A.
Holmes, Susan A.	Witham, Cynthia E.

In the evening the large lecture room was filled to its utmost seating capacity, and even then was far too small to accommodate all who came, a fact that speaks well for the school. It is to be regretted for the sake of the exercises of Commencement day that the platform is not somewhat higher.

The programme of exercises for the evening was as follows:

Music.
Essay.....Miss Florence Drummond
Original Declamation.....Mr. L. Owen
Essay.....Miss Alice W. Hall
History.....Miss Winnifred Evans
Professional Essay.....Mr. Geo. Spinney
Music.
Essay.....Mr. Frank I. Whitney
Class Chronicles.....Miss Julia Mariner
Prophecies.....Miss Jennie Wescott
Music.
Poem.....Miss Anna Ricker
Address to Class.....Mr. W. J. Corthell
Hand Shaking.
Singing of Class Song....by Miss Mildred Blake

The exercises were all interesting. The address to the class by Mr. Corthell was highly complimentary to the graduates whom he styled "a band of earnest, faithful workers." The class song was set to music by Mr. G. M. Wilson of this city.

The Railroad to Libby's Corner.

MR. EDITOR:—It appears by the PRESS of Tuesday that a committee from the City Government favor the building of the horse railroad to Libby's Corner, "providing the building of the road was for the best interests of the city."

We trust the City Government will not sanction the above project. To say nothing about the constitutional question involved, limiting the power of municipal corporations to create any debt exceeding five per cent. on our valuation, it is in violation of the special law of 1877, ch. 345, to be found in the Municipal Register for 1880, page 34. The public can derive no special advantage from any such speculation. While it might be a convenience to ladies and young people to have the horse cars run a mile or two beyond the present terminus at Hackett's Hill, and might also slightly enhance the value of private property at Libby's Corner, it would not only be establishing a bad precedent but imposing an unjust tax on the overburdened taxpayers of Portland.

It cannot be disguised that the Railroad loans of Portland have not only increased our taxes fearfully, but have had the effect of diminishing our population. It is in vain to invite capitalists to come among us when our policy of late years has been to increase our taxes by needless outlays. If any more railroad extensions are needed, let private enterprise undertake the work and not our City Government.

Municipal corporations were authorized by law to raise money for the support of schools, of the poor, repairing highways and necessary town charges. Beyond this, taxes were not imposed by law, and the courts have always held that such corporations, towns and cities, are limited to actually necessary expenditures ***

Maine Universalist Convention.

The Universalists of Maine assembled in convention Tuesday morning at Brunswick. The convention was called to order by the President, Hon. M. P. Frank of Portland. After prayer by Rev. Zenas Thompson of Deering, the President announced the standing committees as follows:

Committee on Elections—Thos. Pennell of Portland, Mr. Gee of Auburn, Rev. W. W. Lovejoy of Calais.

Committee on Religious Services—Rev. J. H. Little of Brunswick, Prof. J. A. Lee of Brunswick, Rev. E. W. Preble of Bangor.

Unfinished Business—Mr. J. V. Bradley of Portland, Rev. Jas. Patterson of Dixfield, Mr. John Bell of Deering.

Nominations—Rev. W. R. French of Turner, Rev. H. C. Munson of Wilton, Mr. Chas. S. Fobes of Portland.

Interesting remarks concerning the early history of the convention were made by the Rev. Z. Thompson, the only survivor of the original convention.

Rev. Mr. Little gave a brief account of the flourishing condition of the church in Brunswick.

At 11 o'clock Rev. W. W. Lovejoy of Calais preached from 2d Kings, 5: 10. The cure of leprosy of Naaman was used to illustrate the importance of kindness and duty in small things as the suggestion of the Israelitish serving maid led to his going to Elisha for help for his malady, and from the course of Naaman was drawn the lesson of active faith and of humility in doing something, and that thing repugnant to him.

At 2 p. m. the convention re-assembled. The President called the convention to order and introduced Rev. J. P. Weston, D. D., as president of the educational meeting. After introductory remarks, Mrs. Geo. W. Quinby, from a committee appointed to visit Westbrook Seminary, reported as to the flourishing condition of that institution, as regards its discipline, instruction and its general standing.

Rev. W. G. Haskell of Lewiston followed with an essay, "The Relation of the Church to Education," claiming that the Romish church was the enemy of the common school and taught its priests that which was written in the Greek and Latin, and what was to be found in books written in the ink drawn from their own fountains; the Protestant church was the founder and promoter of the common school, and regarded public education as its strong ally.

Rev. H. Whitman of Mechanic Falls read an essay, "What We Owe to Education," claiming that as a denomination, the Universalists owed to education a more philosophic statement of faith, a more highly educated clergy and an increased amount of denominational literature of a higher standard.

Mr. C. S. Fobes of Portland presented the claims of denominational schools.

Rev. Dr. Quinby of Augusta, Hons. S. Perham and M. P. Frank urged the claims of Westbrook Seminary to the patronage and support of the people of the State.

Maine Baptist Missionary Convention.

The annual session of the Maine Baptist Missionary Convention began at Augusta Monday evening. The opening meeting was of a social nature, and was presided over by Rev. George B. Ilsley, of Lewiston. At the close of the praise meeting Rev. Mr. Spencer, of Waterville, read a scholarly and thoughtful essay upon "The true aims and claims of the Bible class," in which he expatiated upon the scope and power for good of this important factor in religious education. It was voted to publish Mr. Spencer's essay in Zion's Advocate.

The session is well attended. The late trains of Monday evening brought large accessions to the list of visiting clergymen, and yesterday was very profitable to all concerned.

The convention met at 9 o'clock a. m., President Robbins, of Colby University, in the chair, who delivered a brief opening address. The usual committees were appointed. A paper was read by Rev. C. V. Hanson, of Damariscotta, upon the "Duty of the pastor in relation to the Christian conscience," in which the writer earnestly advocated the supremacy of the human conscience and the great importance of its proper education. This paper was discussed by Rev. Messrs. Merriam, Snyder, Anderson, Hazlewood, Morse, Lyons, Bakeman, Ordway, Burrage, Merrill and Matthews. This discussion awakened a good deal of interest and the speeches were earnest and able.

At 11 o'clock a paper was read by Rev. E. S. Fish, of Brooklin, on "The duty of church discipline." The paper showed that it was written by one of large experience in church government and of a true Christian spirit. He made very prominent the duty of the church to purify itself from unworthy membership. The paper was followed by addresses by Messrs. Kingsbury, Hanscome, J. K. Kalloch, Ordway, Nugent, North, Shailer and Estes. These speakers all agreed that fervent Christian love should mark all disciplinary action of a church.

At 2 o'clock the convention reassembled. After prayer by Rev. Dr. Estes, of Paris, Prof. J. B. Foster, the Treasurer reported. The receipts during the year were $8,500, and the expenditures $5550.

Clergymen of other denominations present were invited to take seats in the convention.

The annual report of the Board of Trustees was read by Rev. Dr. Ricker. This report represents a very prosperous year in the work of this missionary convention. Progress in a decided degree has appeared in every one of fifty churches in this State aided by this body, and 130 baptisms are reported. As much has been done this year as in other years in building churches and in removing church debts.

The report of the State of religion was read by Rev. Mr. Tilden, of Augusta. This is a report from the churches in all parts of the State, and showed that the Baptists of Maine have been steadily growing during the year in numbers and efficiency; and are numerically stronger than for forty years previous. The whole number of additions to the churches by baptism is 530.

In the evening Rev. A. L. Dutton, of Warren, delivered a sermon.

The Liquor Law in Kennebec.

The Governor and Council gave a hearing Monday in regard to confirming the nomination of Charles H. Berry, of Pittston, as State Constable under section 4, chapter 217 of the acts of 1880, which reads as follows:

"Upon petition and representation of thirty or more well known taxpayers in any county, that the provisions of chapters seventeen and twenty-seven of the Revised Statutes, and acts additional thereto and amendatory thereof, are not faithfully enforced by county or local officers, it shall be the duty of the Governor and Council to inquire into such representation, and if, in their judgment, such representations are well founded, the Governor, by and with the consent of the Council, shall appoint two or more constables for such county, whose duty it shall be to diligently enforce the provisions of said chapters and acts, and for this purpose such constables shall have like powers and duties as sheriffs and deputies. For such services said constables shall receive the same compensation as is provided by law for sheriffs and deputies."

Quite a number of gentlemen appeared on both sides. Remonstrances were presented, signed by the Mayor and City Government of Gardiner, against Mr. Berry's appointment, and another signed by many of the leading business men of that city. Complaints having been made against Sanford W. Siphers, Deputy Sheriff, for non-enforcement of the liquor law, he testified that no warrants had been placed in his hands that he had refused to execute; he had served warrant after warrant; had some thirteen cases now pending; was accumulating evidence all the time against rumsellers. It is almost impossible to make a seizure now, rumselling is reduced to such a system. Parties engaged in the traffic employ boys to act as spies upon the doings of officers, and on the first intimation of a search down goes the dump. Although hundreds of men of a rough class and of foreign birth are employed at the ice houses, he never knew Gardiner to be more peaceful and fewer arrests necessary in order to preserve the peace.

Question by Mr. Nye—Do you know how many retail liquor dealers there are in Gardiner licensed by the United States?

"I do not."

"Don't you think it would be well to apply to the revenue office for information?"

"I did so once, when I was City Marshal, but the agent said he had no authority to exhibit his books."

City Marshal White then testified much to the same effect as Mr. Siphers. Have always responded to requests of Mr. Nye and other temperance men. Always search when I hear of any violation of the law. Judge True said that there were more searches, seizures and conviction last year than in any previous year.

Judge True—Am acquainted with Mr. Siphers; always found him ready to do his duty. I think that the laws are faithfully and impartially enforced; am not aware of any remissness or failure on the part of any local or county officer; feel that there has been proper vigilance exercised on their part. Don't see that the appointment of one or two additional constables would add to the efficiency of the law. A few years ago a special officer was appointed but the effect was bad.

No decision was reached by the Council.

A New Congressional Candidate.

MR. EDITOR: At a Republican caucus held at Monson June 19, which was largely attended and enthusiastic and harmonious throughout, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That having unbounded confidence in the ability, integrity and superior qualifications of the Hon. Elias J. Hale of Foxcroft, and as he is possessed of a character which is unimpeachable and a reputation untarnished, we believe him to be one of the most available candidates for Representative to Congress that can be nominated by the Republicans at Bangor June 24th.

The following delegates were then chosen:

L. C. Flint, J. F. Sprague, A. W. Chapin.

PISCATAQUIS.

[Mr. Hale is certainly a first class man who would honor any station to which he was called; but our advices from the Fourth District point strongly toward the nomination of Capt. C. A. Boutelle of the Bangor Whig.—Ed.]

STATE NEWS.

ANDROSCOGGIN COUNTY.

The census gives the town of Livermore a record of longevity that will probably not be equalled by any other town or city in the county or state. The total population of the town is 1,263, and of this number 97 are over 70 years! One for every 13 of its inhabitants has passed the allotted three score and ten. Most of the 97 are women. The total population has decreased 205 since 1870.

HANCOCK COUNTY.

The "spring chicken" business is assuming large proportions. A contractor at Gouldsboro agrees to furnish Bar Harbor 2000 pounds per week, and for that purpose chicken buyers are perambulating the country far and near, with crates made for the purpose, buying every unfortunate biddy which comes in their way. They have a biddy corral at Columbia Falls where from 1000 to 1500 victims are kept constantly on hand to be sent to Gouldsboro, where they are dressed and sent to Bar Harbor.

KENNEBEC COUNTY.

The house of Philo Benson in South Manchester was burned on Sunday with all its contents.

The Council has confirmed the appointment of Selden Connor, J. W. Spaulding of Richmond and Joshua L. Chamberlain of Brunswick, as trustees of the Bath Military and Orphan Asylum.

The enumeration of Gardiner shows a decrease in population since 1870. The number as given for the present census is 4,439, or 58 less than in 1870 and 48 less than in 1860.

The Noyes-Gilman land case at Waterville is settled. On June 19th Sheriff Carleton, by order of the court, gave Mrsr H. B. Noyes possession of the disputed land that has been in litigation so long between her and Mrs. Joanna D. Gilman, which contains three feet more land than Noyes has ever claimed; also an execution for cost, amounting to $1200.

OXFORD COUNTY.

The authorities of the Grand Trunk have settled with Mr. Albion Edwards and Mrs. S. K. Edwards, for the severe injuries received at their station at Oxford, Jan. 21, 1879. They have both recovered so as to be able to attend to business. Mrs. E. received $4000, and Mr. E. $3800, with the expenses of the attending physicians paid.

PENOBSCOT COUNTY.

A singular phenomenon was witnessed in Bangor Monday. While the sun was shining brightly and the sky clear a vivid flash of lightning was seen followed by a very heavy clap of thunder.

The Railroad Commissioners were in Bangor Monday night and yesterday examined the Bucksport railroad.

PISCATAQUIS COUNTY.

Addison Grover, ferryman at Medford, met with a serious accident Friday. While boiling tar on a stove in the ferry house the tar caught fire and and he tried to remove it. By some means the burning tar was thrown over his body, setting fire to his clothes. He ran some rods to the river and extinguished the flames, but his clothes were nearly burned from his body, and his face and hands were burned in a shocking manner. His case is very critical, but the physicians have some hopes that he may recover.

YORK COUNTY.

Massabesic Lodge, I. O. G. T. of Alfred, will have a temperance celebration in Town Hall, July 5th. A grand time may be expected.

Important to Owners of Horses and Cattle.

The undersigned respectfully informs his numerous friends and the public that he is practicing successfully the Reformed Veterinary Art, the principles of which consist in the rejection of blood letting and the use of poisonous drugs, which has hitherto been the great antiphlagistic of the Allopathic school and which has produced more destruction in the animal kingdom than the pestilential sword. The medicines used in the physiological practice are safe and efficient and generally establish the health of the animal without that tedious convalescence which usually attends the administration of calomel, antimony, corrosive sublimate, arsenic, copper, the mineral acids, etc. Horses with spavins, splints, ringbones and all other enlargements cured with Haskell's Ringbone and Spavin Cure or no charge will be required for the same.

Respectfully yours.

POETRY.

The Young Love and the Old.

O, the young love was sweet, dear,
The dainty dream of ours,
When we could not keep our feet, dear,
From dancing through the flow'rs.
When hopes and gay romances
Were thick as leaves in Spring,
And cares were old folks' fancies,
And joy the solid thing.
Of all youth's visions blest, dear,
Of all its golden dowers,
O, the young love was best, dear,
That dainty dream of ours!

O, the old love is sweet, dear,
These chill October days,
When we tread with faltering feet, dear,
The sere and silent ways,
When earth has lost its glory,
And Heav'n has lost its blue,
And life's a sober story.
And care a comrade true.
Though hopes no longer cheat, dear,
And dreams have lost their sway,
O, the old love is sweet, dear,
That gilds the Autumn day!

AGRICULTURAL.

Haying.

It goes without saying that a farmer is a great deal more the master of the hay season than he used to be. When a man had to "swing a hook," and a heavy one at that, over every inch of his grasslands, when he must scratch his hay together with a few short teeth upon the end of a pole, and must pitch it on and off with an implement which was little better than a horned crowbar, he had little to say as to when he should begin or how long he should be about his haying. He had to strike as soon as his hoeing was done, and keep striking till Fall, with little reference to the condition of his grass. If, therefore, he cut some grass when it was too green, and let some stand till the life had been parched out of it, it was scarcely his fault.

But this is not so now. Haying is not a three months' job, for the mowing machine, the tedder, the horse-rake and the hay-cap enable a farmer to harvest his grass crop in thirty days, and to select the time when he will do it. He need not begin until his grass is fit to cut, and he can finish before any of it is damaged by age.

This being the case he is criminally careless if he does not cut every field when it is in just the right condition to yield the largest amount of animal food. When this time is, every farmer must determine for himself; but it may be said generally that there is very little danger that grass will be cut too early. The danger is all at the other end. There are thousands of acres in this State which have "run out," but which yield a light crop of June grass, spear grass or other fine hay. If cut early, very early, and well cured, this makes excellent feed. Indeed, it may be doubted whether any grass that grows is better, bulk for bulk; but if allowed to stand until it is ripe, as a great deal of it is, it is little better to feed to stock than old chair-bottoms. There is a good deal of chew to it, but little nutriment. It is almost impossible for a farmer to cut this kind of grass too early, and thousands of dollars are lost every year by letting it stand too long.

Another loss comes to farmers in cutting clover when made in the sun, especially if it is pretty ripe,—a large portion of the leaves and blossoms which constitute its greatest value are shattered off. Clover should be made as much as possible in the heap, and with the help of hay caps it may be made quite as easily this way as by baking it in the sun. When the water is entirely out of it and it is partially wilted, it should be heaped up and left to cook until it will do to mow away. When the clover is heavy, the heaps may be turned bottom-side up during the day so as to admit the air, but shaking it out half a dozen times is bad business. When properly cured clover is one of the sweetest and most nutritious grasses we have; when its leaves and blossoms are shaken off it is worth very little.

Timothy, or herd's-grass, which is the standard on well-cultivated lands and farms, the bulk of what is known as stable hay, bears age and handling better; and the proper time to cut it depends largely upon the use for which it is intended. It should not be cut for any purpose before the first blossom, and if it is wanted for working cattle or horses, for muscle instead of milk, it is undoubtedly worth more if allowed to stand until it has passed the second period of bloom. This grass, if the weather is favorable, makes at the bottom for some time after it stops growing at the top, and in the opinion of many experimenters contains more heart after the seed has formed than before.

When it comes to meadow-hay that is usually cut when it comes handy, and that is in many cases well enough, for at the best it is worthless except for bedding, and can grow no poorer; but foul meadow, blue joint and some other varieties which grow in meadows are valuable grasses, and while they do not ripen as rapidly, and are not so much injured by standing as some of the upland kinds, it pays to put them into the barn at the right time, which is soon after the blossoms appear.

Farmers do not dry their hay as much as they used to, and are thereby gainers. No grass is improved by being baked in the sun, and repeated experiments have proved that if grass is perfectly free from water it will keep in perfect condition much greener than was formerly supposed.—Mirror and Farmer.

Potato Bugs and Poison.

The question is frequently asked, will not the application of Paris green to the growing potato injure it in the tubers, either by absorption or coming in contact with them? We know that last year many were deterred from using Paris green from a fear that a bad results might follow its use in the way indicated, and numberless stories and reports were afloat of instances where fatal effects to both persons and animals had followed the use of potatoes upon which the poison had been used. The same apprehensions were felt in regard to its use in the West before the advent of the Doryphora in Maine, and to test the question and gather light upon the matter a series of experiments were instituted by the Department of Agriculture at Washington. After the most searching tests by the chemist in charge he says his investigations give a negative reply. All the plants in the earth with which various quantities of Paris green had been mixed, were examined by the most approved tests, and he failed to discover the presence of the poison. Potatoes were also examined from several fields where the plants had been dosed with Paris green, and not a trace of the poison could be found.

To test its effect upon the soil and to see if it was deleterious to growing crops, an experiment was tried by taking a number of common flower pots and leaving some without any of the poison mixed with the soil; in the other different quantities of Paris green were mixed with the soil in different pots, up to the proportion of more than a thousand pounds of Paris green to the acre.

The pots containing the proportion of 900 pounds to the acre and less showed an equally thrifty growth of plants with those containing no poison. But over that amount showed a decline in fertility of soil. The chemist therefore concludes that until the quantity reached the proportion of one thousand pounds of Paris green to the acre no harm was done.—Corr. Semston Journal.

Effects of Bird Shooting.

The farmers in localities where the Army worm is producing such devastation generally agree that worms have been numerous and destructive this year because the birds that would have eaten the moth-miller that lays the army worm eggs are shot by sportsmen and amateur bird-stuffers, who call themselves taxidermists. The murderous work of these classes of men who in the neighborhood of New York, make quite an army, has robbed the section of nearly every bird that would have done service in keeping the worms thinned out, and the result is ruin to crops and a consequent money loss amounting to thousands of dollars.

The farmers of New Hampshire and of every other State can draw an instructive lesson from this if they will. We have in this State a law which, if enforced, protects our insectivorous and song birds at all times of the year, and it is a farmer's duty to see that it is enforced rigorously, to the extreme limit without fear or favor. The law is generally respected by sportsmen, but it is carelessly broken by boys who shoot birds at all seasons of the year without stopping to consider the loss they occasion, or the penalties they make themselves liable to; and it is wantonly broken by men who make a business or a pastime of stuffing bird skins, and who, in order to get a single good specimen, do not hesitate to blow to pieces a hundred songsters. These people often reason, and too often the fact proves, that their neighbors will not make a fuss about so small a matter as a robin or a bluebird; and so the ruthless slaughter goes on; the birds become scarcer every year and the bugs, moths and worms multiply and increase in destructiveness. If you want to save your crops enforce the bird laws.—Mirror and Farmer.

Wit and Wisdom.

Walt Whitman proposes writing an ode to Col. Robert Ingersoll. Orthodoxy's hour of triumph has come.—N. Y. Commercial.

As a food and as a medicine nothing in medicine can compare with Malt Bitters.

"The interest which Frenchmen take in the fortunes of their momentary rulers," says an English writer, "is akin to that with which a countryman at a fair watches the ascent of a greased pole. It is the falls that really amuse him, and the falls that he waits to see."

Now that the summer is coming and the stoves in the country hotels will be taken down, what will the people spit upon?—Hawkeye. Well, let them spit upon their hands and go to work and elect the candidates nominated by the Chicago Convention.—Norristown Herald.

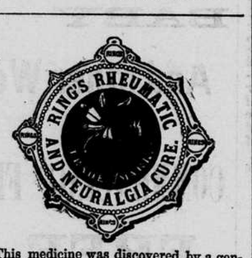
One lap (it's mother's) for the well Baby in day time. About 700 laps of the bedroom floor at night for the happy (?) father carrying the sick Baby to quiet it. Prize—a bottle of Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup, which allows him to rest on his laurels and his bed.

Anybody can play the violin, but it takes years of practice to so play that your neighbors can live the lives of consistent Christians.—Boston Transcript.

A quaintly appropriate reproof was once launched at a popular "entertainer," a gentleman whose dullness in private life equalled his brightness in his profession, which consisted of appearing in a certain character, singing, etc., popping behind a sort of lid, and promptly re-appearing in a new disguise. One evening at a social club Mr. "Deal" had been unusually tedious and morose, and at last one of the company addressed him. "I say, Deal," he slowly observed, "can't you get under the table, and come up as somebody else—and keep so?"

They take the place of the nauseating and violent cathartics used to relieve Constipation, Liver Complaint and Piles. For adults, one RIPE PRUNE acts as a mild laxative; two or three have the effect of cathartic medicine or a glass of Gold Medal Bitters or Hunyadi Janos water but without nausea or griping. One half of a prune taken at bedtime acts like a charm. The medication is entirely vegetable and delightful. Physicians recommend them. Druggists know them.

mh5 No1eod4thp&w1y11



This medicine was discovered by a gentleman who for fifteen years had suffered constantly from Rheumatism, and could obtain no relief. At last he began experimenting upon himself, and finally found a remedy that permanently cured him, and which we now offer to the public.

Ring's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Cure is an internal medicine. It acts through the digestive organs and the blood, relaxing the muscles, relieving the pain, and completes the work by driving the disease from the system.

It is an excellent medicine for the Gout, and all kindred diseases.

It is purely vegetable, and can be taken with perfect safety.

REFERENCE.

I have suffered with Neuralgia in my head since my earliest recollection. At times, my temples would swell, and I would be nearly distracted with pain,—never able to go out in the cold or wind without suffering for days afterward with my head. Several weeks since, I commenced taking your Rheumatic and Neuralgia Remedy, and before taking the contents of one bottle, I found relief, have suffered no pain since, and have been able to go out in the coldest weather without having the pain return. I hope all who have suffered from the same disease will not fail to try this great Remedy.
